Spring fling

Romulus district will not host Beacon center

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus Community Schools will discontinue the Beacon Day Treatment Center in the 1989-90 school year.

School board members Monday night approved a resolution disclaiming any responsibility for the program. District officials claim the action follows repeated attempts to work out concerns about the program with officials of the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Beacon Day Treatment Center services approximately 196 emotionally impaired students ranging from kindergarden through 12th grade. Nine of those students are from Romulus, according to district officials.

The school, which operates from the South Middle School building on Olive, services students from 24 school districts.

District officials have expressed concerns in two major areas: liability and repairs. In a recently drafted contract proposed to WCISD officials, Romulus representatives requested the county assume liability for injuries or accidents at the facility. The contract also asked the county to cover the costs of major building repairs. The middle school building is approximately 40 years old.

Three options were presented to county officials.

- The intermediate district can relocate the treatment center in another district.
- The intermediate district can assume responsibility and control and rent the facilities from Romulus.
- The intermediate district can approve the contract language and remove all liability from Romulus.

James Greiner, associate superintendent of the WCISD, recently responded to the proposed contract in a letter to William Bedell, superintendent of Romulus Community Schools. "...the function of the Intermediate District is to facilitate the delivery of special education programs and services to local district resident students and to assure programs are operated in an appropriate and cost-effective manner."

Greiner said WCISD officials are willing to address the issues of reimbursement for unemployment and worker's compensation costs along with the legal cost of hearings. Greiner said he would like to see the Romulus district continue to operate Beacon for one more year under current conditions to allow a transition period for students.

Detroit man guilty in Romulus shooting

Eighteen months after the death of a Romulus resident, a Detroit man has been found guilty of second degree murder in the shooting.

Alfonso Banks, 23, was found guilty of second degree murder and firearm felony charge Friday by Judge George W. Crockett III at the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice.

Banks had waived his right of a trial by jury. He did, however, take the stand on his own behalf, according to Romulus police officials. Bank's trial lasted one day. Sentencing is scheduled for May 22.

Banks had been charged with the death of a 26-year-old Romulus man, Wayne Jones. Jones was shot to death in September, 1987.

Originally, Banks was scheduled for an April 18 trial. However, proceedings were delayed when a witness for the prosecution suffered an epileptic seizure in the courtroom. The witness was fully recovered in time for the trial Friday.

Banks did not become a suspect in this case until November, 1988 when Det. Dan Snyder of the Romulus Police Department traced him with the help of two witnesses in California. After speaking to the witnesses, Romulus police officers were able to determine the circumstances surrounding Jones' death.

Jones' shooting occurred in a house owned by his former girlfriend on Chamberlain Street in Romulus. On the night of his death, Jones reportedly kicked in the door and burst into the house expecting to speak with his former girlfriend. Instead, he encountered two men completing a drug deal, according to Romulus police officials.

Banks reportedly pointed a gun at Jones and told him to leave. Jones allegedly started to leave, but as he walked toward the door he turned back. Jones was then shot in the head, police said.

Jones remained in a coma for three weeks before dying from the gunshot wound.

In November, 1988, Romulus police officers received a tip that led Snyder to two witnesses in California.

$850,000 improvement eyed for downtown

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Members of the Downtown Development Authority are considering a plan calling for approximately $850,000 in downtown improvements.

If approved, the plan would utilize a tax increment finance system. Financing for downtown improvements would be refunded by new revenue generated by a nearby senior citizen housing development. The development will be on Wayne Road across from city hall.

An initial provision of the plan calls for the realignment of Goddard Road, $450,000 worth of construction. Sharp curves in the road would be eliminated, and the road would be widened and resurfaced. In addition, Goddard curbs and gutters would be improved and the surrounding area would be landscaped.

Next, a parking lot with capacity for 40 to 50 vehicles would be constructed near Sterling and Goddard roads. This project would cost approximately $235,000. Improved downtown parking has been a longtime goal of the DDA, according to secretary Dennis Oakes.

Another parking improvement would rearrange the parking facility at the IGA store on Shook and Goddard. Two other lots on Goddard would be repaved and receive new markings. These projects would cost a total of $100,000.

The plan also calls for a more defined separation of the residential and commercial sections downtown. Several streets with Goddard outlets would be closed off, including Gabriel, Whitehorn, Grover, Delano, Wahrman and Moore.

"These would possibly be closed to create more of a residential environment," Oakes explained. No cost has been estimated for this project.

In addition, the plan calls for multi-family residential developments. The housing would be privately owned, but the city may need to purchase more land the east side of Hunt near the historic park to facilitate the project, Oakes noted.

The final project, the historical park is presently under way. Currently, a site plan, including cost estimates, is being developed for the project.

The pre-draft of this plan was presented to DDA members in April. However, because more than 100 people live downtown, state law requires a downtown area citizens' council provide input on the plan before the DDA makes a decision.

"We cannot act without the citizens' council," Oakes said.

Oakes explained that there is concern regarding proposed school tax reform legislation which could increase sales tax and limit the amount of property tax earmarked for education.

"(These) would effectively limit the ability of the DDA to capture substantial future tax increments that could be used to finance public improvements," Oakes said.

The next step for DDA members is to establish the citizens' council and stage a public hearing to present the plan they approve. Oakes hopes they can move quickly with these steps.

Residents from the downtown area interested in joining the citizens' council can obtain more information by calling 942-7545.

LOCAL NEWS DIGEST

Jail site is selected

The new 840-bed Wayne County jail will be built in Hamtramck, county officials announced last week.

The news ends the fears by officials from Westland and Romulus, cities which were once pinpointed as possible locations for the new correctional facility.

The minimum-security facility will be built on a 19.6-acre site north of the General Motors Assembly Plant in Hamtramck, according to Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

Officials of Hamtramck have been lobbying to have the jail built in their community. Hamtramck is suffering from a local depression. With the new jail, county officials have promised approximately 250 new jobs.

The jail project will be financed with revenue from a 1-mill property tax increase approved by Wayne County voters last year. The jail will house convicted felons and misdemeanants serving sentences of one year or less.

The county will pay the city of Hamtramck $500,000 annually to replace property taxes the city would receive if a private developer had purchased the jail land.

Technically, the Wayne County government is not required to pay property taxes because governments cannot tax other government entities.

A developer for the jail will be contracted in June, county officials said.

Freeways to be greener

Motorists traveling along I-94 between Metro Airport, in Romulus, and the city of Detroit will notice a greener pathway this summer.

County and state officials have planted 10,000 Austrian pines at five sites along the freeway, as part of a Michigan Youth Corps project.

The corps, a seven-year-old summer program, provides jobs for 20,000 unemployed young adults in the state.

In all, state officials hope to plant more than 50,000 trees along highways during the months of May. Other roads targeted are I-96 near Grand Rapids, I-496 near Lansing, I-75 from Bay City to Flint, Traverse City and Clare to Mackinac.

"This landscaping is part of an intensive effort to make our highways impressive ports of entry for our communities," Gov. James Blanchard said. "Future visitors will be greeted by impressive tree and wildflower plantings, which show the pride we have in our state."

Also included in state officials' summer plans are anti-litter campaigns, trash pickup and other roadside beautification efforts.

Contract amends Supersewer plan

Plans for the North Huron/Rouge Valley Design Project - also known as Supersewer - progressed May 4, when members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners amended an agreement with the design and engineering firm coordinating the project.

The amended contract with Wade-Trim Associates, Inc., enables eight subcontractors to begin providing services for the project.

County receives AT&T commission

When AT&T public telephones are used in various county buildings, the Wayne County budget will receive a commission from the AT&T, the telephone provider.

The one-year agreement was approved by members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners May 4.

The county will receive 10 percent of non-sent paid revenues from long distance telephone calls.

County heads to suburbs

Wayne County commissioners moved their weekly meeting from the city of Detroit to the suburbs last week.

And they are going to do it again at least seven times this year.

The commissioners staged their first "in the suburbs" meeting of 1989. The meeting was staged May 11 in Southgate.

The Wayne County Charter requires that the commissioners stage eight regular meetings outside of the traditional meeting place - the City-County Building, in Detroit - according to Richard Wolfe, clerk of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The "traveling meetings" are designed to afford residents of local communities easy access to the meetings and, at the same time, make commissioners more familiar with each of the 34 Wayne County communities they represent.

The meetings, Wolfe said, are time-consuming to plan, because a considerable amount of paperwork has to be transported to the host community. A meeting room must also be located.

Nevertheless, few local residents take advantage of the meetings, Wolfe said.

"Very few people ever come to them," Wolfe said.

The schedule for future commission meetings staged outside of the city of Detroit has not been completed, Wolfe said.

Members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners meet each Thursday. Local commissioners are Milton Mack (D-Wayne) and Kay Beard (D-Inkster).

Shooting reported in Romulus

A Taylor man was reportedly injured by gunfire in Romulus at approximately 10:30 p.m. May 4.

A bullet was removed from the upper thigh of the 23-year-old later that night at Heritage Hospital in Taylor.

The victim told police he was in a car with his girlfriend when an argument ensued. The man left the car and was walking in a wooded area near Eureka and Colbert, according to his account of the incident.

After hearing a loud male voice, the victim was struck by a bullet in the leg. He managed to crawl to a nearby business and telephone for help.

City nets revenue from parking tax

Romulus officials reported a total of $138,137.50 in revenue from the first three monthly state parking tax payments.

The revenue stems from a tax levied on vehicles parked at Detroit Metropolitan Airport. The program went into effect in January.

City celebrates Heritage Day

Heritage Day will be celebrated in Romulus at 2 p.m. May 20 at the future Romulus Historical Museum on Hunt.

During the celebration, members of the Romulus Historical Society will dedicate the Romulus Memorial Cemetery as a local historic site. A historic marker will be unveiled at the cemetery after the dedication.

The festivities will begin with social hour. Free refreshments will be available.

The historical museum is located at 11120 Hunt next to the Romulus Post Office. The event is free and open to the public.

Teachers' Day is recognized

The Romulus Board of Education Monday night approved a resolution in honor of Michigan Teachers' Day.

Teachers' Day was celebrated May 9. Although the state board of education has recognized outstanding Michigan teachers, Romulus board members said all educators deserve a pat on the back.

Senior events set for May

Several outings have been scheduled by the Romulus Senior Center this month.

The senior van will head for the September Days Senior Center May 12 for a flea market and arts and crafts show. Later, participants can shop for plants at a local greenhouse.

May 16 is Senior Power Day in Lansing. Room is available for two more seniors in the van.

Also on May 16, money is due for the June 6 trip to Boblo Island. Room is still available for several more participants. The entire Boblo boat will be reserved for senior citizens that day.

The $11 cost covers all expenses except food.

Poppy sale is slated

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9568, on Huron River Drive, will sell poppies in Romulus May 18 through May 20.

Proceeds of the sale will benefit disabled veterans.

Civic League provides activities for area youngsters

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

If Willie Hester needs any proof of the involvement and concern of Romulus residents, he has only to look at the land on Wharman Street where the Civic Building now stands.

Years ago, neighborhood residents met weekly in the empty field for softball games and barbecues. In 1947, some of the "regulars" decided to turn their casual group into an organization. Their goal was to provide safe, healthy activities for the neighborhood youth.

In later years, group members, along with local residents, decided more than activities were needed. Fundraisers were staged, and in 1960 construction began on the civic building. It was meant to be a recreation center. On the same land, a playground and a basketball court were built. By 1964, the project was completed. The entire effort included help from community members.

Today, said Hester, who serves as group president, that community concern is needed more than ever. Basically, he explained, he wants more residents to volunteer their time to the organization. Eight active members are not always enough, Hester said.

"Times have changed dramatically," Hester said. Numerous residents have offered to donate money to the group, but most are reluctant to offer time, he explained. Hester is concerned residents assume they will be working with troubled or difficult teenagers through the civic league.

"It's putting a stifle on an already difficult task," Hester said. The longtime member is also concerned volunteering no longer appeals to people.

"The concept has outgrown itself," he said. "If the community doesn't support it (the organization), it's going to die."

The civic league does offer a number of activities despite the low membership. Recent activities have included puppet shows, ice cream socials, basketball clinics and sewing classes for senior citizens. Hester is planning an aerobics class to help motivate people to exercise now that the winter "blahs" are ending.

In addition, the organization offers an annual six-week summer program in conjunction with the Romulus Recreation Department. Through the summer program local youth between 7 and 13 years of age go on field trips and participate in regular sponsored activities. The children also can use the civic building which has pool tables, a jukebox and numerous games. The program is similar to day camp, Hester explained.

Because the group is self-supporting, volunteer efforts are also needed to stage fundraisers. The largest source of funding comes from renting the civic building for weddings or other events. The group also stages chicken-dinner sales and barbecues to bring in money.

"We're holding our own," Hester said. "But, I have to regenerate enthusiasm for the community." Volunteers are mainly needed to supervise youth activities, Hester stressed. With supervision, the civic building could be kept open for youth on a regular schedule. Supervision would also allow for more sponsored events, he said.

The Romulus Civic League meets at 8 p.m. the first and third Thursday of every month in the civic building. More information about membership or volunteering can be obtained by calling 941-7468.

Former council secretary dies at 60

Juanita Laine, who had served as a secretary and receptionist at Romulus City Hall, died at age 60 May 3.

Mrs. Laine, often referred to as Nita, reportedly died of a massive heart attack.

Mrs. Laine began working for the city in 1977. She served as part-time council secretary and full-time receptionist for former Mayor William Oakley. In 1983, when Oakley left politics, councilmembers suggested Mrs. Laine work as their secretary on a full-time basis. She continued that position until 1984.

"She was not only a council secretary, I considered her a dear friend," said Mary Ann Banks, mayor pro tem. "She was an unique individual, she was always happy," Banks added. "She'll be very dearly missed."

"Nita Laine stands among the top people I've met in this city," said Councilman Jimmie Raspberry at a council meeting Monday night. "She was a great and beautiful lady."

Councilmembers unanimously approved a resolution in honor of Mrs. Laine during the meeting.

Funeral services were at Crane Funeral Home in Romulus Friday. Mrs. Laine is survived by her husband, Clyde, and three daughters; Bonnie, Jackie and Debbie.

Busy courtroom angers suspect

A Romulus man facing arraignment for assault and battery charges casually walked out of the courtroom prior to the proceedings May 4.

The 32-year-old reportedly was waiting for his case to come up as he sat in the 34th District Court. Because the room was somewhat crowded, the man managed to stroll out of the room without being seen. Romulus police officers discovered him in the nearby Romulus Public Library within a half hour of his attempted escape.

Now, the man will return to the 34th District Court for a pretrial May 17. Under the misdemeanor of escaping from lawful custody, he could face up to one year in jail or a $500 fine.

Beacon

If WCISD officials had not received communication from Romulus officials by May 4, they intended to approach other districts about relocating the program.

Romulus officials have interpreted Greiner's statements as reluctance to negotiate a contract.

"We truly regret having to take this action," said Kenneth Berlenn, school board president, in a letter to WCISD officials. "As you can see from Dr. Greiner's letter, the position of the Intermediate Staff is inflexible and we have no choice in this matter."

Despite the resolution, Romulus school officials have not closed off all negotiations on this issue.

"The superintendent is still willing to talk," said Joel Carr, assistant superintendent for finance and operations.

During the school board meeting staged Monday, numerous parents and teachers representing Beacon expressed their concerns on the issue.

"Some felt the board was being hard," Carr said. Others accused the board of moving too quickly with their decision.

"That's not true," Carr said. "We've given the options to the county," he continued. "This is not something that just came up."

"Basically, what the parents of our kids want...is a year's transition period," said Judy Gunn, one of two Beacon social workers. Gunn serves as a liaison between Beacon and the parent-teacher association.

"Emotionally impaired children don't adapt readily to change," Gunn added. "Beacon is a quality program and needs to continue in a consistent fashion." "The bottom line is what's best for the kids," she emphasized.

Parents are hoping Romulus officials will find a way to work out their differences with the WCISD.

"There are lots of options," Gunn said. She suggested Romulus assume some responsibility and increase the cost of rent during the lease to cover the cost of repairs.

This issue has had a rippling effect in the school, according to Gunn. After hearing their parents' concerns, students have started questioning their futures, she said.

"It's been the not knowing part that's difficult." That aspect has also concerned the Beacon staff. They question whether their seniority will remain unchanged if they are transferred to another district, if the pay scale will vary.

A second staff concern is whether the program will change if moved to another district.

"There would also be the danger of the program being divided," Gunn said. "It would dilute the program, it would change the essence." Currently, sharing staff members is common in the Beacon program.

"I don't know how we would operate if we were divided," Gunn said.

City officials review new solid-waste plan

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus city officials have recently been presented with a revised draft of the 20-year Wayne County Solid Waste Plan.

The plan must be presented for council approval by May 22. The original plan received extensive criticism when released last fall when critics claimed the plan placed too much emphasis on incineration and landfilling to reduce residential solid waste.

The main goal of the plan, with or without the revisions, is to reduce residential solid waste within the county by 75 percent by 2000. Each community must come up with a way of meeting their reduction quota by 1991.

The revised plan, said Mayor Beverly McAnally, places more emphasis on the options of recycling and composting. McAnally said she is still familiarizing herself with the revised draft, but is pleased with what she sees. She simply wants to see an effective plan, she said.

"I agree with anything that's practical. With the county acting as lead agency, we can accomplish it (waste reduction)."

Some of the main goals of the revised solid waste plan include:

- Continued education and research on solid waste issues. Citizens, special interest groups and elected officials would be involved in waste management.

- The origin, type and volume of waste to be disposed of would be identified.

- A reduce, reuse and recycle policy for all county departments would be established.

- Initiatives to meet these goals are provided. For example, individual communities are encouraged to prepare a local plan to reduce solid waste.

High school nets elevator

An elevator is in store for Romulus Senior High School next year.

School board members Monday night approved a bid of $50,418 bid from K & V Construction for the installation of an elevator in the school.

The project will be funded by a state grant, according to Joel Carr, assistant superintendent for finance and operations.

"There will be no cost to the district," he emphasized.

The elevator is intended to service disabled students. In past years, Carr said, classes have been brought downstairs to accommodate disabled students. Those changes will no longer be needed.

The district received three bids for the project. The lowest bid, $31,600, did not include the cost of installation.

Members of Romulus civic groups aid annual festival

FESTIVAL GUIDE, C-1

Each contributing in a different way, members of three local civic organizations will make the Romulus community festival a success this year.

Festival activities, which begin May 19 and continue through May 21, offer numerous opportunities for volunteer assistance. They include a parade, carnival, 10-kilometer run, entertainment, arts and crafts and bingo. The tradition concession stands, featuring goodies such as cotton candy and hot dogs, will also be present.

Officials of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a refreshment stand, offering beer to adults. Chamber of Commerce members have been active in the Romulus festival since the event began seven years ago.

Another festival tradition is the pancake feast sponsored by the Romulus Kiwanis Club. Members will begin dishing out the pancakes at 7 a.m. May 20 on the festival grounds, located at Bibbins and Olive streets. For late-risers, the pancakes will be served until 1 p.m.

"We plan to feed about 100 people," said Kiwanis member Jim Conway.

At least 10 members are expected to cook, he said. Conway did not try to estimate the number of pancakes served. The feast is "all you can eat."

This will be the fourth year Kiwanis Club members have staged such a feast, Conway said. Proceeds go to the Romulus Historical Society.

Adults pay $3.50 to eat. Children ages 5 through 12 are charged $2 each. Children 5 and younger are admitted free of charge.

Members of the Romulus Rotary Club will also begin a new tradition this year. They are assisting in the festival parade, which is the kickoff for the festival events.

The parade begins at 6 p.m. May 19 at the Romulus City Hall, on Wayne Road, and continues throughout downtown

Romulus. Featured will be representatives of the local fire and police departments, Shriners, Girl Scouts, high school band members, the mounted division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and former prisoners of war, who will display a float.

To prevent the chaos such a large group could create, between 12 and 15 Rotary club members will be on hand to coordinate crowd control.

"The Rotary club has always been involved in community projects," said member Ron Hobson.

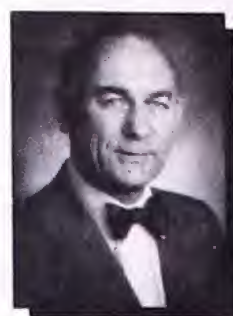

In addition to organizing parade participants, club members will supply refreshments after the march.

Art education

Students from Wick Elementary School, in Romulus, were among the dozens of students to tour the Artrain May 4 and 5, as it made a stop in the city of Wayne. Inside was a collection of 300 toys from the world-renowned Lawrence Scripps Wilkinson collection. The Wayne event set a record for daily attendance at the Artrain, which was formed in 1971 by the Michigan Council for the Arts. More than 4,800 area residents toured the train cars during the weekend. ANP photo by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

CANCER PAIN CAN BE CONTROLLED

In the early stages, cancer may not hurt. It is the treatment, and some of the associated conditions, that may be painful.

When these conditions are compounded by fear or depression, a tragic cycle of suffering may begin.

RELATED CONDITIONS TRIGGER PAIN

Some of the medications used to treat cancer may cause painful constipation. Surgery to remove a tumor may be painful, or long periods of inactivity after surgery can cause stiffness and pain.

Radiation therapy results in scar tissue that may be painful. In advanced stages, the cancer itself may cause pain.

Furthermore, fear, depression, and anxiety increase pain, and a cycle begins: Pain causes depression and depression leads to more pain.

These painful conditions may be relieved, but first, the cause of the pain must be properly diagnosed. Those elements due directly to the disease must be distinguished from those that are related to treatment or depression.

PAIN IS TREATABLE

The source of the pain may be eliminated. Surgery, chemotherapy, radiation therapy, or a combination of these may relieve pain caused by the cancer. If a related condition such as constipation can be eliminated, the associated pain will stop. Antidepressant medications may effectively break the depression-pain cycle.

The signals that travel from the source of the pain to the brain may be blocked so that the perception of pain is reduced or eliminated. This may be achieved surgically or by medication.

Emotional support from family, friends, and caregivers often helps reduce the feeling of pain and is a vital part of treatment, especially in the advanced stages of cancer.

15-percent staff layoff now under way at hospital group

By THOMAS M. VARCIE
ANP Staff Writer

The layoff of 15 percent of the staff at five area hospitals was announced last week by officials of the Wayne-based United Care Inc., formerly the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

The layoffs are being implemented as a cost-savings measure to curb continued financial losses in the organization, which was once the PCHA — a public-funded health-care authority disbanded earlier this year — according to Maureen Camps, United Care director of communications.

United Care owns and operates five area hospitals, including Annapolis, in Wayne; Beyer Memorial, in Ypsilanti; Seaway, in Trenton; Outer Drive, in Lincoln Park; and Heritage, in Taylor. United Care is the private, nonprofit corporation which assumed all assets of the PCHA in January.

The PCHA was reorganized into United Care to change what hospital-authority officials said was a bleak financial future of the public organization, which was formed in 1945. Last year, the PCHA recorded a $4 million operating loss, according to auditors.

That operating loss is continuing at United Care, Camps said. During the first quarter of 1989, the operating loss was estimated at $4.5 million.

"We've continued experiencing some operating losses, and we need to put a stop to that. We thought we had to implement a staff reduction," Camps said.

The losses have been attributed to increasing costs of medical liability, a more competitive health-care industry, unreimbursed medical care and a declining number of patients per day.

In addition, the health-care organization lost the power to levy taxes to area residents when it became a private corporation. Until January, residents in each of the 24 members communities — including Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Belleville, Romulus, Van Buren Township and Sumpter Township — were levied an up-to .4-mill tax.

The tax levy was used to repay outstanding bonds issued for construction and improvements to the five PCHA hospitals. Area residents will notice the end to the PCHA tax when they receive their summer tax bills.

The elimination of the tax will save the owner of a $50,000 house approximately $5 annually, based on the .2 mills levied during 1988.

Of approximately 3,200 full-time employees at United Care, nearly 15 percent will be laid off "over the next several months," United Care officials said.

Approximately 60 percent of United Care expenditures are for employee salaries and fringe benefits, Camps said.

In addition to layoffs, cost-reduction steps include reducing inventories and supplies, postponing purchases not affecting patient care, trimming overtime and leaving vacant positions in non-patient care areas, Camps said.

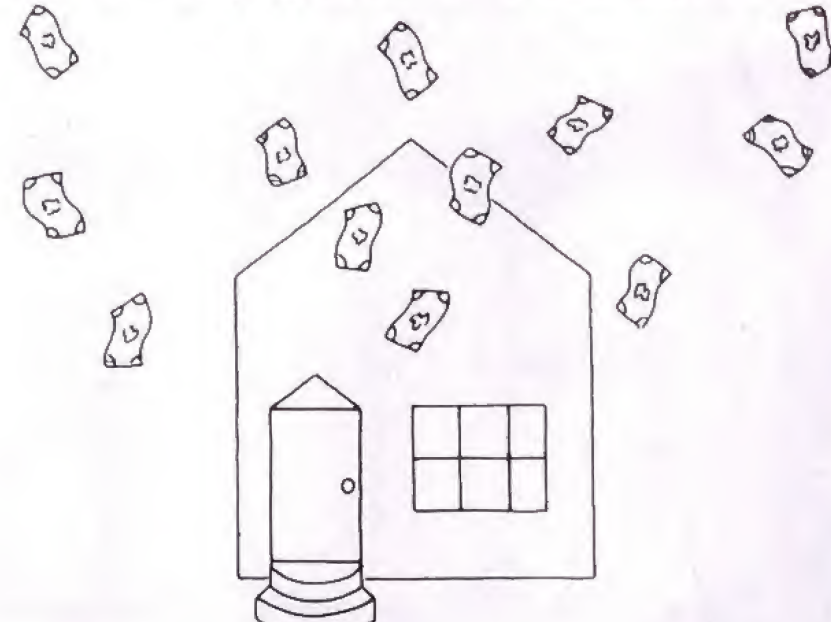

Staff positions not affected by the layoffs will be those involved in direct-patient care, such as registered nurses.

"Staff nurses will not be reduced, because there already is a shortage of them. They are key people for us," Camps said.

Initially, reorganization and accompanying staff reductions will occur at the corporate office, at management and supervisory levels, within salaried positions and eventually into the union ranks, United Care officials said.

A placement-assistance program, designed to help laid off employees find new jobs, has begun for 43 people already laid off.

Mud madness

Yes, moms, this is for real. And your child can be a part of the action this Saturday at Hines Park, in Westland. The event is the annual "Mud Day," sponsored by the Wayne County Parks System. More than 200 tons of topsoil and 20,000 gallons of water create a 6-year-old's fantasyland at the Nankin Mills picnic area, Hines Drive at Ann Arbor Trail. The event begins at 11 a.m. The champion mud youngsters will be crowned "Mr. and Ms. Mud." The event is co-sponsored by Tubs and Tumbler Coin Laundry. ANP file photo

Infant mortality rate focus of county week

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

The infant mortality rate in Wayne County is well above the state average, and officials plan to do their part to bring this fact to the attention of residents.

This week has been designated as Infant Mortality Prevention Week in Wayne County, and county officials are joining with local officials to put a dent in the problem and raise money for programs.

The above-average infant mortality rate stems from a lack of funds and a lack of education about existing programs, according to Vernice Davis-Anthony, Wayne County director of health and community services.

During 1987, 15 of every 1,000 babies, in Wayne County, died before they reached their first birthday, compared to 10.9 per 1,000 statewide. In Detroit, 20 babies per 1,000 died before their first birthday.

During 1987, 554 infants died in Wayne County, 407 of them lived in Detroit.

"There's a lack of awareness of the need for early and constant pre-natal care," Anthony said.

In most instances, Anthony said, the early deaths could be prevented through better awareness.

"We're going to bring this one down," she said. "We have the resources, and we have the commitment."

To help highlight that commitment, people throughout the county will take part in various events this week. The biggest of these events will be a Mother's Day Gospel Show at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Masonic Temple. All proceeds from the show will go toward infant-mortality prevention programs in the county.

"Many of our services are stretched to the limit," Anthony said. "That's why funding would help."

But while funds from events like the gospel show are important, Anthony also hopes to spotlight available services.

Anthony's office provides a hotline for women who think they may be pregnant and have no insurance or are concerned about other problems. The number is 961-BABY.

Approximately 11 clinics in Wayne County provide pre-natal care to low-income women or Medicaid recipients, Anthony said.

The county also uses para-professionals to help contact high-risk pregnant women, and obtain help for them.

To further chip away at the problem, the Wayne County Executive Task Force on Infant Mortality solicits volunteers to help administer services.

The task force is chaired by Wayne County Commissioner Bernard Kilpartick, and has been in place since 1985.

Co-chairs for Infant Mortality Prevention Week are Yvette Bing (wife of former Detroit Piston Dave Bing), Rev. Edgar Vann of Second Ebenezer Church and former Detroit Lion Lem Barney.

Tickets to the Mother's Day Gospel Show are $15 and $20 and can be ordered from the Masonic Temple Box Office at 965-3322. Artists featured in the show include Orthea Barnes, Spirit, Second Ebenezer Youth Choral, Ella Moore and Friends, Charmaine Cook, Sandra Feva and Dr. Cass Hudson's Children's Choir.

'Remembering Russia'

State lawmaker has many questions after Soviet trip

By BARBARA WILSON
ANP News Editor

A recent trip to the Soviet Union has left many unanswered questions in the mind of state Rep. Justine Barns (D-Westland).

Barns traveled to Finland and the Soviet Union last month with members of a Westland hockey team.

"It was a very exciting trip," Barns said. "It's a very different culture."

Barns would love to return—but not until she has plenty of time to study the history and the language of the land. Next time she will be better prepared.

The stark reality of the foreign country hit home when Barns and other members of the Westland delegation arrived in Leningrad. Passports and plane tickets were immediately given to Soviet authorities for examination.

"It was rather shocking at first," Barns said.

Leningrad is a city of five million residents, all of whom live in apartments, Barns said.

Stores are not clearly labeled, and the types of foods

"It was rather shocking at first . . . I couldn't get over how few books there were and souvenirs. What was available was very expensive."

— Justine Barns
State representative (D-Westland)

available are very limited, Barns said.

"I couldn't get over how few books there were and souvenirs," she said. "What was available was very expensive."

An interpreter who traveled with the group explained to Barns the financial status of most Russians. The interpreter, a learned man who specializes in interpreting for medical journals, earns 160 rubels each month.

A rubel equals $1.65. A dictionary costs 20 rubels.

"That is quite a percentage of their monthly income," Barns said.

While in Leningrad, Barns and other members of the group visited a few schools.

The state lawmaker was impressed with one huge community which had a school on the premises. Five large apartment buildings were built around the school, which included students in kindergarten through 12th grade — 1,700 kids in all.

Inside the school, children had few books and only six calculators, Barns said.

"It would obviously be quite expensive to equip the school with calculators," she said.

Barns also walked the Leningrad streets. She was aghast at what appeared to be an Oliver Twist environment.

"The black market was quite frightening, but it obviously thrived there," Barns said. "It reminded me of Fagin and the children he trained to pick pockets in the street."

Despite the dark points, Barns was impressed with the reception the group received and with the intriguing historical aspect of the city.

"We were received by the executive counsel of Leningrad, and they treated us quite well," Barns said.

Among the officials they met was a woman who was the third highest ranking official in Leningrad.

"I made a comment about needing more women in government everywhere, and she clapped in response," Barns said.

Barns presented the counsel with gifts from Gov. James Blanchard and from the state House of Representatives.

"I don't think we would have been received so well five years ago," Barns said.

Among the questions which Barns hopes to answer during a return visit to Leningrad are the role trade unions and the sports counsel play in the communist government. She also hopes to learn more about the Soviet class system.

Newest school-reform plan nets opposition

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Any school finance reform blueprint that is developed by state lawmakers must include school accountability and standard performances for schools.

That's the message Gov. James Blanchard reiterated last week to the members of the state House of Representatives and the Senate, where the debate continues on school-finance reform.

One local lawmaker agrees—but he's not ready to support the most recent bill to land on the steps of the state Capitol.

The latest proposal—offered by a coalition of business, labor, education, local government and civic groups and championed by Edgar Harden—would ask the voters to increase the state sales tax from 4 cents to 4 1/2 cents.

Most local lawmakers have already rejected the idea, because the proposal doesn't address the crucial question of equity or reducing property taxes.

State Rep. William Keith (D-Garden City), who chairs the House Committee on Education, said last week that he is not ready to vote for the Harden proposal.

"I think equity financing is the primary concern and the basis for any reform. The Harden bill doesn't address this important question," Keith said.

"And there is an adage that a poor solution to a problem is like no solution at all."

Keith disagreed with a recent statement from federal education leaders that "pumping more money into education is not the solution to the problems of education."

"We don't have any dropout problems in the Bloomfield or Beverly Hills school districts, where they spend $7,000 per student," Keith said. "It's in Detroit and other pockets of poverty, where kids are leaving the classroom at tragic percentage rates. Those school districts bring down the state's averages, and, until we find a way to close the gap, there will be serious problems."

Keith stressed that, if school-finance reform is to become a reality, "it will be accomplished only if the people of the state continue to place pressure on their lawmakers."

Harden, a former interim president at Michigan State University and a Lansing businessman, said his proposal would generate about $400 million in new money for schools.

Gov. Blanchard issued a statement last week, promoting the Harden plan. Blanchard said that, if the plan is approved,

• It will be the first time the state will set performance standards for schools and make the schools accountable for achieving them.

• It will be the first plan to empower teachers, principals and parents by giving them decision-making authority to design future classrooms;

• It will expand the governor's new preschool program and make Michigan the first state in the nation to provide preschool education for all 4-year-olds.

• It calls for the same amount of new money for education—$400 million—as other school finance reform plans but focuses it on reducing inequity, both spending and learning, while ensuring quality through tough standards and accountability.

In addition to the Harden plan, state Sens. John DeGrow (R-Port Huron) and Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo) introduced a plan that would pump an additional $300 million dollars into education without tampering with the state sales tax.

The senators believe that their colleagues will support the proposal, which would give the projected state budget surplus for the upcoming fiscal year to school districts that are in financial trouble.

Senior Power Day to be staged

Approximately 4,000 senior citizens from southeast Michigan are expected to converge on the steps of the state Capitol Tuesday, to mark the 15th annual Senior Power Day, according to Nel Thompson, director of the Wayne-based Senior Alliance.

The daylong legislative forum on the needs of senior citizens throughout Michigan will be staged in the Civic Arena, in Lansing.

Out-Wayne County residents planning to take the 172-mile round-trip to Lansing will be among more than 6,000 attendees in all, who plan to advocate for issues affecting seniors and to bring the issues to the forefront in the form of a five-plank platform, Thompson said.

Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley is serving as the honorary chairperson for the day.

"As a senior citizen, the chief justice is involved with a myriad of social issues that reflect the theme for this year's event—Senior Power: Building a Community of Generations," Thompson said.

The Senior Power Day platform is designed to address and make recommendations in the areas of housing, education, health, employment and transportation for the elderly.

Other non-elderly-specific topics will also be addressed.

"The platform will be looking at issues, such as AIDS and long-term care, that affect so many more people than just the elderly," Thompson said. "It's reflective of a growing trend and understanding of the need to get organizations that serve various age groups to work together to resolve mutual problems.

Tickets to Senior Power Day are available to older adults living in southern and western Wayne County on a first-come, first-served basis from the Senior Alliance. Tickets entitle participants to seating and a boxed lunch.

Suggested ticket price is $2. Lunch will be served by the seniors' legislators.

Tickets also entitle participants to free admittance to a public hearing in the morning, a consumer's fair featuring approximately 100 exhibits and a free copy of the program.

STATE NEWS DIGEST

Bill regulates BB, air guns

A bill introduced May 2 in the state Senate by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) would regulate the sale and use of BB and air guns in Michigan.

Michigan law currently prohibits people 18 and younger from using or possessing any handgun designed and manufactured exclusively for propelling BBs not exceeding .177 calibre by means of spring, gas or air, outside the curtilage of his domicile unless accompanied by a person 18 or older.

Faust's bill requires safety features and permanent warning labelling of the guns, as well as prohibiting the sale of the guns and ammunition to minors.

It also requires point-of-purchase information to be provided to consumers and outlaws mail order sales of such guns.

Home health-care services targeted

A bill recently introduced in the state House of Representatives would provide oversight to home health-care services, a rapidly developing area of personal medical service available to chronically ill people and patients recovering from sickness or injury in their own homes.

The bill would require state registration of home health-care agencies and establish a grievance procedure for complaints relating to the quality of care provided.

Hearing is set on truck weights

A public hearing on truck weight restrictions is set for 2 p.m. today in the council chambers of the Taylor City Hall, 23555 Goddard Road, Taylor. The hearing is being staged by members of the state House Transportation Subcommittee.

Current Michigan law permits trucks to have a total weight of up to 160,000 pounds on major roads and freeways, which is the highest of any state.

The subcommittee will investigate concerns that the weight level results in greater and more rapid deterioration of state roads and poses a safety hazard to other drivers.

Emergency help would be assured

House lawmakers are considering a bill to mandate that an individual seeking emergency-room treatment in a Michigan hospital could not be turned away of transferred without a medical screening.

The bill would also prohibit hospitals from refusing or transferring an emergency patient solely for economic reasons.

Home repairs are tax-exempt

House lawmakers are considering legislation that would allow a property-tax exemption for residential home improvements and additions.

In the bill, communities could grant tax exemptions for up to 12 years on home additions or other improvements that cost at least $1,500.

The tax exemption would cover only the value of the improvements.

Multi-county juries eyed

Members of a House committee are considering a bill to provide for multi-county grand juries.

In the bill, the state attorney general or two or more county prosecutors could ask the Michigan Supreme Court to convene a citizens' grand jury to investigate suspected criminal activity in several different jurisdictions.

'Tougher' sentences eyed for criminals

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

Proposed legislation designed to be tough on criminals, may not be as tough as it looks, according to one local judge.

Gov. James Blanchard has proposed legislation which would mandate life sentences with no parole for "repeat violent offenders and those who commit the most serious and shocking crimes."

To be considered "shocking," the crime would most likely involve sadism, torture or aggravated physical injury, according to Ron Koehler, a spokesman for Blanchard. The prosecutor assigned to the case would have to request that the crime be considered as such. It would be left up to the jury to decide if, in fact, the crime fit the category.

But 35th District Judge James Garber, of Plymouth, said he would not expect the proposal to ensure life sentences for all who commit such crimes.

"My impression is what that will do is provide the court the ability to give life without parole," Garber said.

Current Michigan guidelines make it difficult for judges to give tough sentences, especially consecutive terms for those convicted of several counts of the same crime, Garber said.

While Blanchard's proposal appears to impose stiffer penalties, Garber said, it actually takes even more sentencing authority away from judges.

"The trend has been toward restricting the discretion of the court," Garber said. "There's a perception that the courts have been lenient on crime."

Garber sees Blanchard's proposal as part of an overall trend in which legislators try to appear tough on crime by placing mandates on judges for tougher sentences.

One result, according to Garber, is that some criminals who belong in county jails go to state prisons instead because there is no room at the county level. More dangerous criminals are then released from state prisons, Garber said.

"Not only are they building the floor higher, they're cutting out the ceiling," Garber said.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 22, 1989, at 6:30 o'clock p.m. at the Board Room at 36745 Marquette, Westland, Michigan 48185, (313) 595-2000, the Board of Education of the Wayne-Westland Community School District will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1989 of an additional proposed millage rate of 1.6903 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Education has the complete authority to establish that 43.8922 mills be levied in 1989 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1989 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by 4.10%.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Education may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

What's one of the most important items found at a birthday party? These youngsters (above) could quickly answer, as they gazed at a "cupcake cake" topped with a candle, to celebrate the 70th birthday of the Wayne County Parks System. The youngsters later devoured the cake during the cupcake-eating contest. The cards in the background were more lasting than the cupcakes. They were entries in the birthday-card contest. ANP photos by Debbie Pountney

Park party

Residents pour in to wish happy birthday to county

By THOMAS M. VARCIE
ANP Staff Writer

Not even cold weather could have stopped this birthday celebration.

The birthday was for the Wayne County Parks System, which marked 70 years of existence May 6 at the Nankin Mills picnic area, in Hines Park, Westland.

The parks system began in 1919 in Trenton, when the 162-acre Elizabeth Park was given as a gift to the county. Since then, the parks system has expanded to 4,200 acres, covering six parks, according to Vic Chaisson, director of special events for Wayne County.

The birthday was celebrated by more than 75 local residents, who participated in several events, Chaisson said.

Although it was too cold for the diaper derby, youths participated in other events, such as the big wheel grand prix — staged for "kids of all ages" — and the toddler trot, for children age 2 and younger, Chaisson said. Events were staged from 1 to 3 p.m.

"We had a parkway art contest, where the kids took some chalk and drew on the parkway road. This was for kids of all ages. Some drew birthday cakes, some did park scenes," Chaisson said.

Approximately 25 artists participated in the parkway art contest.

For walkers, the "Walk Michigan" event was staged. In the event, anyone who walked at least one mile along Hines Drive was automatically entered into a drawing to win an all-expense paid trip to Mackinac Island to participate in the Labor Day Mackinac Bridge walk. The winner will be chosen in August.

Birthday cards for the park were made by students of local schools. One winning card was chosen by judges. The winner, who received four free Detroit Tigers game tickets, was Nicole Exel, of Inkster, a student at St. Dunstan's school, in Garden City.

And, of course, a birthday wouldn't be complete without a birthday cake. This cake, however, was unlike any other, Chaisson explained.

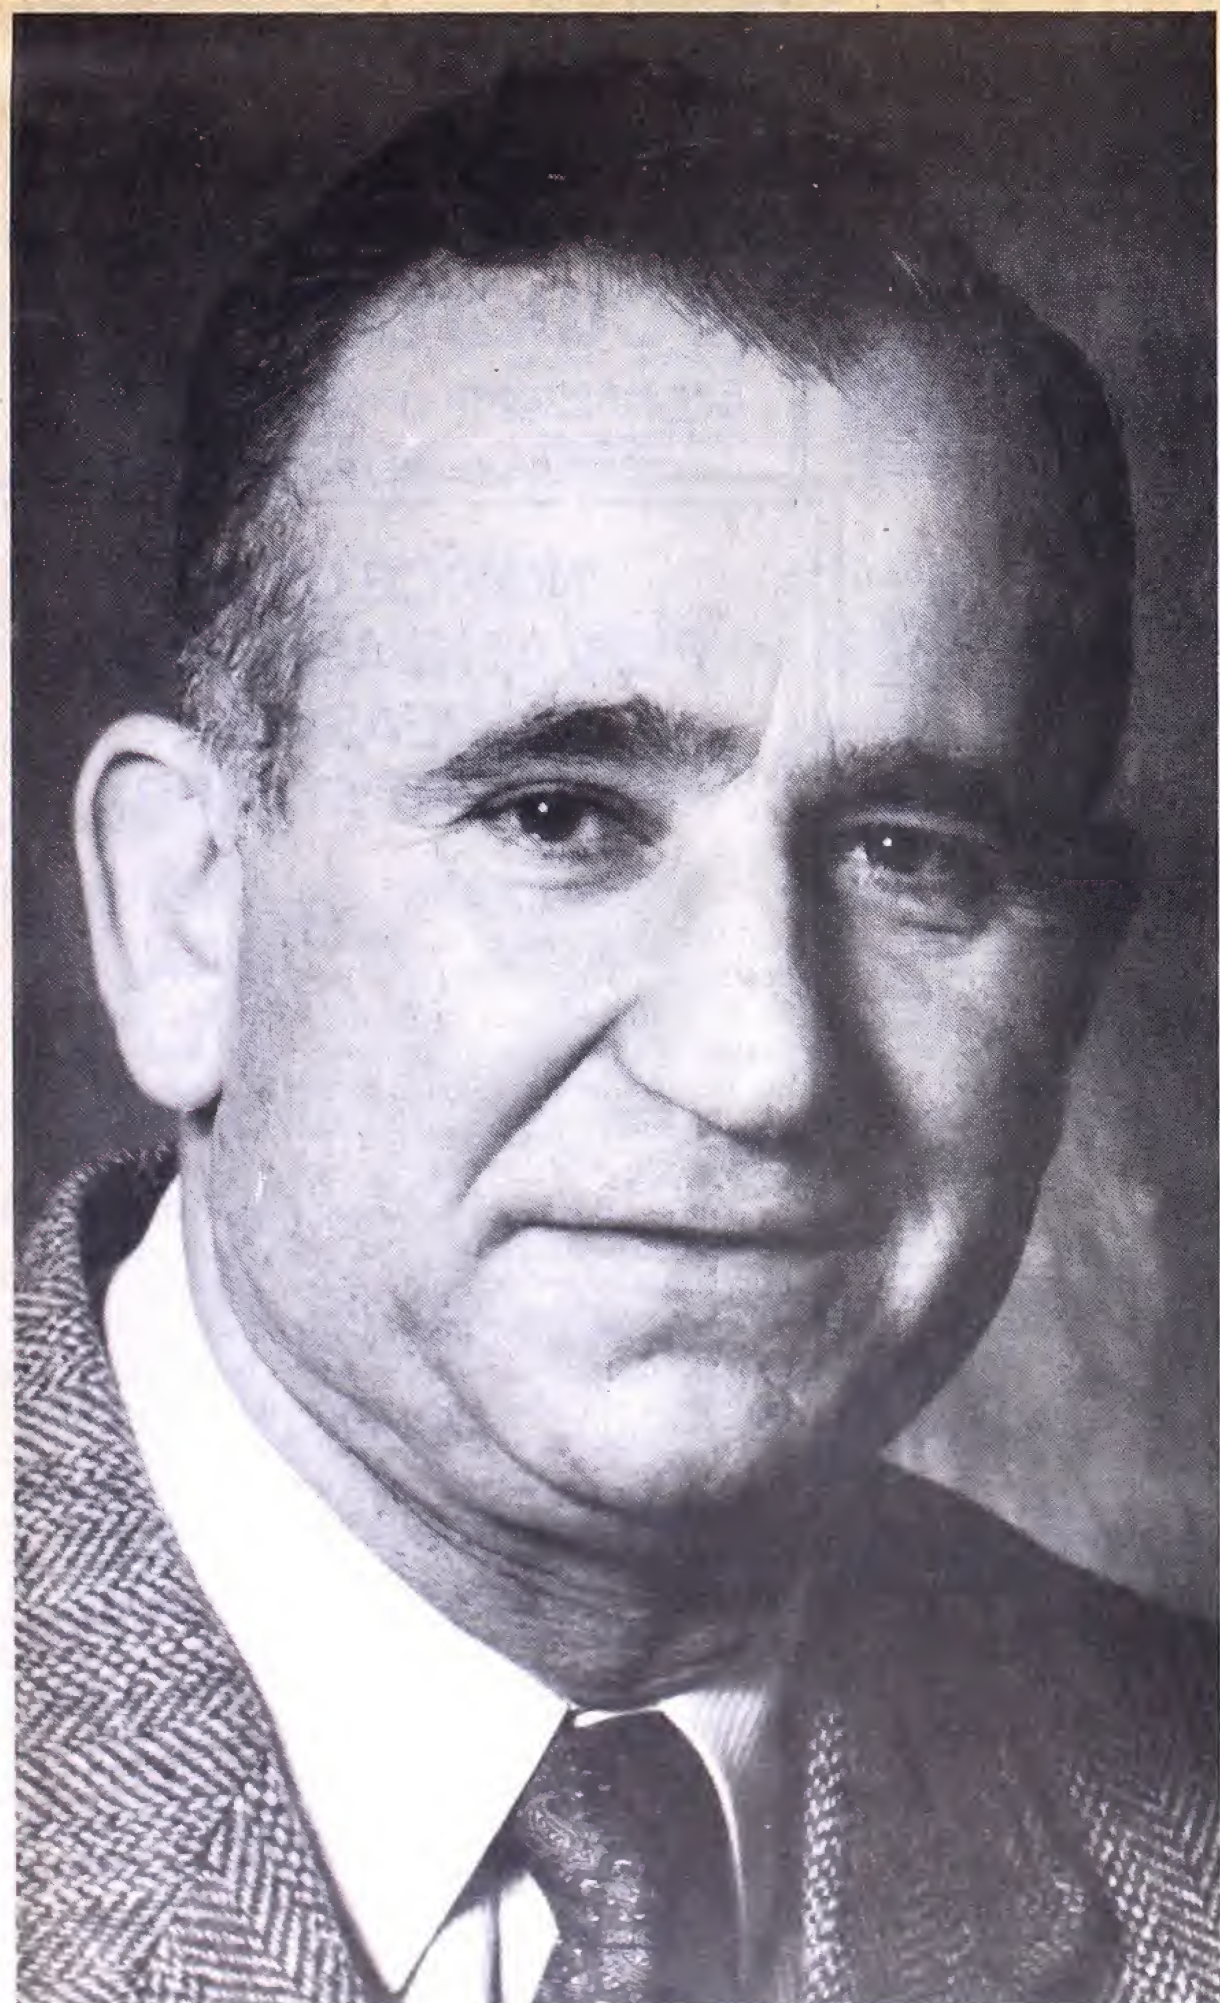

"We had a pyramid of cupcakes for the birthday cake, given to us by Entenmann's Bakery. We thought that would be a little different than the traditional birthday cake," Chaisson said.

After the "happy birthday" hymn was sung, all of the children scrambled to retrieve a cupcake, Chaisson said.

The birthday celebration also marked the start of the "Saturday in the park" program.

Saturday was the perfect day to enjoy the county parks for Westland residents Mike McHugh (left, from left), Michelle (on his shoulders), age 2; Marianne and Kelly, 4. Also joining in the afternoon birthday celebration were Andrew Mehlich (right), 8, who helped in the chalk walk, Jennifer Speir (above), of Westland, who examined an art display, and Nicole Exel, 12, who won first place in the birthday-card contest.

Dr. Demetropoulos is an interventional radiologist on the Medical Staff of Oakwood Hospital.

Oakwood Vs. Cancer

The role of interventional radiology in the management of cancer

By Kyriakos Demetropoulos, M.D.

Q. What is interventional radiology in reference to cancer management?

A. Interventional radiology uses highly sophisticated imaging devices for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. The equipment allows the interventional radiologist to "see" what is happening inside the human body, to identify problems, and in some cases, to help in the treatment of those problems.

Q. How does it work?

A. Of course it differs from case to case. However, sometimes we inject a dye into the patient to make the cancer visible. This injection may be made through a needle or a small catheter. Following the path of the dye on the imaging equipment allows us to accurately identify the exact location of the problem.

Q. How is it used in the management of cancer?

A. It is valuable in both diagnosing and treating cancer. Specialized guiding techniques are used to locate and remove tissue that is suspected of being cancerous for a biopsy. Sometimes, it is used to shrink tumors, and in some cases it may be helpful in relieving the blockage of an organ.

Q. In addition to diagnostic procedures, how is it used to treat cancer?

A. Of course, every patient is different, but many times interventional radiology is an important part of treatment. For example, it may be used to administer high concentrations of chemicals directly into the cancer site. This allows for higher doses of medication to be given, without the same degree of unpleasant side effects.

Another way in which it contributes to the treatment of cancer is a procedure called tumor embolization in which the blood supply that feeds the tumor is blocked. This may kill the tumor, or may cause it to shrink so that an inoperable tumor becomes small enough to be removed surgically.

Sometimes tumors bleed, which threatens the life of the patient. In these cases, interventional radiology may be used to stop the bleeding without major surgery, or to help stabilize the patient so he or she will be strong enough for the necessary surgery.

Q. Can interventional radiology cure cancer?

A. In many cases it contributes to the early diagnosis and treatment of cancer. The earlier the cancer is treated, the better the chances for cure.

Sometimes, it does not contribute to a cure, but helps relieve suffering and makes life more pleasant for a cancer patient. For example, interventional radiology procedures may be used to drain bile from a diseased liver or unblock an obstructed organ, such as a kidney. In these instances, the treatment does not cure the disease, but it makes the patient more comfortable.

Q. Is it appropriate for all cancer patients?

A. Every patient is a special case and must be evaluated individually by the treating physician and the interventional radiologist. There are many procedures available today and the physicians must select the best mode of treatment for each patient.

Q. Are these procedures safe?

A. Interventional radiology is considered very safe. The patient is awake during the procedure, which eliminates any risks associated with anesthesia. And, it avoids the possible complications of surgery. However, all medical procedures carry some risk. There is always some danger of infection when equipment, even a very small needle or catheter, is put inside the human body. In some cases bleeding may be a risk.

Q. Are these procedures painful?

A. The procedures are not usually painful because they are done under a local anesthesia. The patient remains awake and alert throughout the procedure. The recuperation period is very short.

Q. Who performs interventional radiology procedures?

A. Interventional radiology is a highly technical field, therefore, the doctors who perform it have specialized training and expertise in the effective use of imaging equipment. The interventional radiologist is a consultant, and works closely with the patient's treating physician to achieve the best management of the patient's problem.

Q. How were these problems handled before?

A. Most of these problems were handled by surgery. Today, in many cases, interventional radiology is a safe and effective alternative to surgery. Often, it helps simplify or avoid extensive surgical procedures.

Chemistry is demonstrated

"Explorations in Chemistry with Al Hayms" was presented Tuesday to students at Merri-man Elementary School, in Romulus.

Basic chemistry experiments were demonstrated to students, to promote better understanding and interest in the subject.

Preschoolers still needed

Officials of the Romulus Child Development Program are accepting applications for the 1989-90 school year. The child-development center is a state- and federally-funded program which provides services to 3- and 4-year-old children and their families.

A child may be eligible for enrollment if his or her family receives government assistance, such as ADC, Social Security or veterans' benefits. The program is also open to foster and handicapped children.

For additional information, call 728-7815.

The center is located at Beverly School, on Beverly Road, in Romulus.

Classes take a day off

Students at Halecreek Elementary School will leave the classroom several times this month for education field trips.

First-graders visited Domino's pizza earlier this month to learn the fine art of pizza making.

Third-graders will travel to the Detroit Science Center tomorrow. Members of the safety patrol earned a trip to Bob-lo Island May 22.

Second-graders will enjoy the great outdoors when they travel to Maybury State Park May 25.

Animals visit Hayti students

Hayti students were treated to an entire day of science presentations May 1.

The student assemblies were presented by the Living Science Program. The programs were funded by the parent-teacher organization, using money collected in student fundraisers.

Each presentation included live animals.

Programs presented included: "Animal Family Introduced," "Furry Friends," "Kingdoms of Life," "Backbone Biology Introduced," "Animal Senses," "Australia" and "Amazon."

Youth visit new schools

Hayti students who will be transferred to other schools next year as a result of the school closing will visit their new schools Tuesday.

Students will be traveling to either Cory or Halecreek elementary, based on the attendance area in which they live.

The students will be greeted by the school principals and teachers and will be given a tour of the building.

Top wrestling match planned

Members of the Romulus Varsity Club will present "Michigan Championship Wrestling" at 8 p.m. May 20 in the Romulus Senior High School.

The event will include several matches.

For ticket information, call 941-3414.

Friends follow new paths

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

After spending most of their time in high school as friends, two Romulus Senior High School seniors will head to Wayne State University, in Detroit, together as "merit scholars."

Erika Luster and Seema Chackunkal had already been accepted at WSU when they received notice of their scholarship awards. Among the requirements for the prestigious award is a 3.5 or better high school grade-point average.

If Luster and Chackunkal maintain 3.0 grade-point averages or better in college, the scholarship will fund their tuition for the next four years.

Both of the girls said they are excited about the scholarship. "It feels good," said Chackunkal. "We don't have to worry about tuition now."

The difficult grade requirements to maintain the scholarships do not concern the youths.

"It gives you an incentive to keep your grades up," Luster said.

In addition to their choice of college, the youths also share the same career goal. Both intend to earn medical degrees.

"I've always liked hospitals," Luster said.

Medicine has long been an interest, Luster said. Her experience in the Explorers program - an extension of Boy Scouts, which helps young people learn about their career interests - helped confirmed her career choice.

Luster and Chackunkal were Explorers together. Each meeting focused on a different department at Annapolis Hospital, in Wayne.

Chackunkal also served as a volunteer at the hospital.

In addition to the Explorers group, both girls have been members of the National Honor Society since their sophomore year at Romulus high school.

Congressional honors

Romulus resident Cara L. Cichowski (right) will have a new honor to display, after she was presented with a congressional medal of merit by Congressman William D. Ford (left) during a ceremony Sunday at the Wayne County Extension Center auditorium, in Wayne. The award is designed to honor outstanding youths in the community who have demonstrated academic excellence, community service and leadership abilities. Cichowski was one of 14 youths recognized from throughout Ford's 15th Congressional District. The prestigious awards are given to individuals and groups and are presented annually. Food

Now's the time for chocolate

just desserts

sue willert

It's that time of the year. It's raining, there was frost last night, and everybody is cold, damp and crabby.

Trees are supposed to be budding, crocuses ought to be poking tiny little sprouts through the earth and daffodils should be valiantly attempting to flower. It just doesn't seem right, somehow.

The brave souls who ran for the shorts and tanning oil when the mercury hit 60 are now covering their goose flesh with down jackets and the epidemic of crankiness appears terminal. It's definitely time to take action.

The only sure cure known to mankind for depression, crabiness and ill temper is chocolate. This is a premise supported by years of in-depth study and research. Sure, it's been a sacrifice, but it was necessary for some brave soul to take this task on for the enlightenment of mankind. A dirty job, but somebody had to do it.

Here are two of my favorite chocolate pie recipes which are wonderful no matter what the season or the temperament. Enjoy.

Chocolate banana pie

- 9-inch pastry shell, baked
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1/3 cup cocoa
- 1/3 cup cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 cups milk
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 medium bananas, sliced
- Sweetened whipped cream
- Additional banana slices for garnish

Combine sugar, cocoa, cornstarch and salt in medium saucepan. Gradually add milk, stirring until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Boil and stir for 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Blend in butter and vanilla. Pour into bowl. Press plastic wrap directly onto surface. Cool to room temperature.

Cover bottom of cooled, baked pie shell with small amount of filling. Arrange banana slices over filling. Cover with remaining filling and chill 3 to 4 hours or until firm. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream and banana slices.

Black bottom pie

- 9-inch pastry shell, baked
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup cocoa
- 1/4 cup butter, softened
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 cups milk
- 4 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons rum
- 4 egg whites
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Grated chocolate

Combine 1/2 cup sugar, cocoa and butter in medium bowl. Set aside. Sprinkle gelatine onto cold water in small bowl and let stand 1 minute to soften. Place bowl in pan of simmering water to dissolve gelatine. Combine milk, egg yolks, 1/2 cup sugar and cornstarch in medium saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Boil and stir 1 minute. Remove from heat and measure 1 1/2 cups of the custard and blend into cocoa-sugar mixture. Add vanilla and pour into cooled shell. Chill until set.

Combine dissolved gelatine with remaining custard. Add rum and set aside. Beat egg whites in small mixer bowl until foamy and gradually add 1/2 cup sugar and beat until stiff peaks form. Fold egg whites into gelatine-custard mixture. Chill 15 minutes or until partially set. Spoon over chocolate custard in crust. Chill until set. Garnish with grated chocolate.

PASTRY PASSION

Romulus chef savors sweets at the Ponch

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

If pastry chef Cindy Ross did not enjoy baking so much, she would probably hate her job.

The Romulus resident is the new executive pastry chef for Hotel Pontchartrain, in Detroit. Some days, she said, the hours on the job seem endless.

"You really have to have a love for it and a passion for it," she said.

For her, however, baking has become a passion.

Ross never planned to become a chef. Years ago, while helping her uncle repaint his bakery, she began filling in for absent workers. It was then that she discovered she actually enjoyed baking.

"I fell into it without even realizing it," she explained.

Ross worked for 14 years in a variety of bakeries and restaurants, sharpening her skills. For the past five years—after earning an associate's degree from Monroe Community College with a chef's certificate cum laude—Ross has been working as a pastry chef.

Ross is quick to admit that her love for baking does not extend to cooking.

"There's a big difference between baking and cooking," she said. "Baking is a science. You have to know how things work together."

When cooking, the deletion of one ingredient and substitution of another is allowed. In baking, however, no such luxury is available, Ross explained.

Thus, bakers must understand leavenings, such as yeasts, and know how ingredients interact, Ross said. For example, she said, baking soda makes cocoa darken.

Bakers must also follow recipes exactly—unless he or she knows a proven shortcut or trick of the trade.

Actually, Ross said, measuring is one of the biggest challenges for a baker. Two cups of flour from the same bag can register completely different weights, Ross said. A more accurate method is to weigh all ingredients.

All of Ross's recipes use pounds and ounces, rather than cups and spoonfuls.

Despite the importance of accuracy and following directions when baking, there is room for creativity, Ross said. When baking at home, Ross loves to create edible works of art. One of her methods involves sculpting styrofoam and coating the piece in chocolate.

She also enjoys working with marzipan and pastillage. The latter is a powdered-sugar product that can be sculpted. The end result is quite solid, but it is edible, she said.

Recently, Ross created an elaborate, yet tasty, Easter display for Children's Hospital of Detroit. The display included edible chocolate bunnies sitting in chairs made of pastillage. She also made a 2 1/2-foot chocolate egg. For a Detroit chocolate festival, she made a huge chocolate treasure chest.

"Showpieces like these can last forever," Ross said.

Creating impressive pastries at home is not difficult, Ross said.

"There are just so many things you can do," she explained.

For example, when shaping cream puffs, opt for creative shapes, such as swans or seashells.

Romulus resident Cindy Ross (above) doesn't mind the long hours and late nights included in her job description. She is the new pastry chef at the Hotel Pontchartrain, in Detroit, and loves every sweet smell emitted from the kitchen. ANP photo by Debbie Pountney

These effects can be achieved with a pastry bag and a fine tip, Ross said.

In addition, desserts in meringue shells can be extra special. For a successful meringue, Ross recommends heating the egg whites and sugar together. That process forms a bond and prevents the sugar from breaking up the egg whites.

Also, for each egg white, add double the amount of sugar, she said.

Ross loves experimenting and baking at home. She loves the challenge of being creative and refers to it as playing.

"It started out as a hobby, and, in a sense, it still is," she said.

The recipes Ross has provided below are all unique. Each utilizes the weight system. Ross recommends using a small meat scale.

For cooks more comfortable with the conventional cups and spoons, Ross said, these recipes can be converted. Remember that 16 ounces equal one pound. One pound equals two cups.

The following recipes net large quantities.

Cobbler cake

- 1 pound, 14 ounces cream cheese (room temperature)
- 1 pound, 14 ounces butter (room temperature)
- 3 pounds, 12 ounces granulated sugar
- 1 quart, 8 ounces eggs
- 2 pounds, 13 ounces all-purpose flour
- 1 ounce baking powder

Cream together cream cheese, butter and sugar until smooth. Slowly add eggs. Mix well. Sift together flour and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture. Pour into 10-inch round greased and floured pans. Bake 30 to 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Cobbler cake is a slash between conventional cake and cheese cake. Each pan equals one cake. Allow to cool slowly.

This is an ideal cake for experimenting with toppings. Try jam or even canned fruit cocktail.

Biscotti

- 12 ounces granulated sugar
- 4 ounces shortening
- 4 ounces butter
- 8 ounces eggs
- 1 ounce anise seed
- 1/4 ounce butter flavoring
- 3/4 ounce baking powder
- 1 ounce powdered milk
- 6 ounces milk
- 1 pound, 12 ounces pastry flour
- 4 ounces chopped nuts

Cream together sugar, shortening and butter until smooth. Slowly add eggs. Mix well. Add anise seed and butter flavoring. Mix together baking powder, powdered milk and milk. Add to creamed mixture. Add pastry flour and nuts. Stir until mixed well. Take 12-ounce sections of dough and roll flat on floured surface. Place on greased cookie sheet and bake at 325 degrees 15 to 20 minutes. These "bar" cookies are known for a unique flavor.

Banana nut bread

- 1 pound granulated sugar
- 12 ounces shortening
- 4 ounces butter
- 1/2 ounce salt
- 12 ounces beaten eggs
- 1 pound, 4 ounces mashed bananas
- 1 1/2 pound sifted cake flour
- 1/2 ounce baking powder
- 1/2 ounce baking soda
- 8 ounces walnuts

Cream together sugar, shortening, butter and salt. Add beaten eggs, mashed bananas and sifted cake flour. Mix well. Add baking powder and soda. Stir in walnuts. Pour batter into greased 1 1/2 pound loaf pans. Pans should be placed in shallow pans of water and baked in 375-degree oven for 45 minutes.

Brownies

- 1 1/2 pound granulated sugar
- 12 ounces butter
- 2 tablespoons vanilla extract
- 9 eggs
- 10 ounces cake flour
- 6 ounces cocoa
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 8 ounces nuts

Cream together sugar, butter and vanilla flavoring until smooth. Slowly add eggs. Sift together cake flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture and mix well. Stir in nuts. Pour batter on to a greased cookie sheet. (Waxed paper can be substituted for greasing). Brownies should be baked in 350-degree oven 30 to 45 minutes.

PEOPLE

SEVERAL AREA RESIDENTS graduated from Central Michigan University during the winter commencement ceremony. The local graduates include Canton Township residents Stacey Champagne, John Garbacik, Paul Gothard, Angela Kocik, Timothy Kryska, Douglas Storbeck, Lucille Tomei and Portia Worthy; Inkster residents Lisa Franckowiak and Rhoda Littles; Romulus residents Michael Kuspa and Rose Phelan; Wayne resident Kris Klay; and Westland residents Tania Bailey and Steven Henson.

WESTLAND RESIDENT RODNEY Meinhardt, the son of Linda Meinhardt, has entered the U.S. Air Force Delayed Enlistment program. After he enters the Air Force Feb. 15, he will take part in a six-week basic training. Following that, he will receive technical training in the mechanical aptitude area and assigned to an Air Force duty station. He graduates from Wayne Memorial High School in June.

TWO WAYNE-WESTLAND area volunteers of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council were recently honored at a recognition banquet. The two, Hedy Sullivan and Rodney Deyo, both of Westland, were honored for their years of service.

FORMER WAYNE RESIDENT, Margaret Sak, was recently named "Woman of the Year 1989" at the YWCA tribute to women banquet April 25 at the Century Center, South Bend, Ind. She currently is clinical manager in the Brain Injury Day Treatment Program at Memorial Hospital, South Bend, and she created the first such program in St. Joseph County, Ind. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sak, of Wayne, is a 1970 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School.

U.S. ARMY PVT. Dewey White, son of Nancy Palmarchuk, of Wayne, has completed training at the U.S. Army infantry school, Fort Benning, Ga. During the course, he received instruction in weapons qualifications, tactics, patrolling, land mine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

U.S. AIR FORCE Airman 1st Class Eric Elmore, the son of Carol Robinson, has participated in the U.S. special operations command exercise, "Jaguar Bite '89." More than 1,500 airmen and soldiers joined in order to improve interservice cooperation by evaluating the operational efficiency of USSCOM organization forces. The operation was primarily conducted at night with small units to simulate the mission of special operations. He is a personnel specialist with the 8th Special Operations Squadron, Hurlbert Field, Fla., and a 1985 graduate of Inkster High School.

SERVICEMEN FROM WESTLAND who made the military news include Airman Kelly Kevnick, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kevnick, who has graduated from the U.S. Air Force medical administrative specialist course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas. She is a 1987 graduate of John Glenn High School. Army Reserve Pvt. Gail Robinson, daughter of Donald and Arlene Robinson, has completed an Army administration course at Fort Jackson, S.C. Students were trained in the preparation of military records and forms. She is a 1987 graduate of John Glenn High School.

ALBION COLLEGE SENIOR Susan Willis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Willis, of Westland, received departmental honors in biology during the Albion College honors convocation. The biology major is a 1985 graduate of Cherry Hill High School.

RECENTLY RECEIVING STAFF promotions at Eastern Michigan University were Belleville resident Rosemary Brookshier, who was promoted to data clerk II; and Romulus resident Diane Henson, who was named senior account specialist in the accounting department. The promotions are effective immediately.

EIGHT LOCAL FOSTER care families with the Wayne Community Living Services who have been providing foster care for six or more years were honored May 10 for their services. The families are Mike and Bonnie Gubaci, of Belleville; Robert and Linda Jutras, of Canton Township; Robert and Gladys Archie, Sylvester and Viola Bailey and Mortimer and Alcie Pipe, of Inkster; Thomas and Claudia Godard, of Romulus; and William and Clara Fox.

BELLEVILLE RESIDENT PATTI Little, 15, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Little, has been selected to compete in the Miss Teen Pageant from July 25 to 27 at Stouffer Battle Creek Hotel. In the pageant, Little, and other 13- to 18-year-olds will be honored and recognized for their achievements personally, in school and the community.

CANTON TOWNSHIP RESIDENT Amy Miyazaki, a senior at Western Michigan University, has been selected as one of two WMU students to participate in a program for study in Japan. She has been named a recipient of a $7,500 scholarship for study at the Japan Center for Michigan Universities. She will study in Shiga Prefecture, Japan.

RECENTLY SERVING AS a consultant with the Central Michigan University Small Business Institute during the winter semester was Steven Grimes, of Westland. Students of the institute work together with Mt. Pleasant-area clients in the areas of marketing, feasibility, advertising, merchandising, store layout, competitor relations, finance, manufacturing, planning and customer satisfaction. He is the son of George and Bettie Grimes and a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School.

From staff reports

Michigan Week festival is staged

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

What started as a small, community attempt to attract more people to downtown Romulus has grown into a large-scale spring celebration.

After seven years, the Romulus Festival has become a strong community tradition, attracting people from across the Metro area. Festival activities begin at 6 p.m. May 19 and end at 10 p.m. May 21. They include a carnival, parade, bingo, arts and crafts, live entertainment and a 10-kilometer race.

The festival grounds are located on Bibbins Street, behind the Romulus Recreation Center. Michigan Week is the theme of the festival.

Originally, members of the Downtown Businessman's Association of Romulus proposed an event to lure people into downtown Romulus. Small businesses staged sidewalk sales.

Then, business people organized a celebration in conjunction with the Labor Day celebration of a local school. The following year, business and community members requested a specific theme for the event, and Michigan Week was selected.

A contract was then signed with the Wade Shows amusement-rides company to bring the carnival to town during festival time each year.

When the businessman's association folded several years later, the tradition of the festival continued. The volunteers of the festival committee now coordinate the event.

Funding is from a variety of sources. The largest source is a percentage of gross intake

Calendar of the festival events

Here is the day-to-day rundown of events planned during the Romulus Michigan Week Festival, scheduled May 16 to 21. Most events are staged on the festival grounds, Bibbins and Olive streets, in Romulus.

from the carnival, according to Gayle Mach, of the festival committee.

In addition, money is provided by local businesses sponsoring tents. Sponsors for this year include Kelsey Hayes, Chevrolet-Pontiac, Canada Group and the St. Lawrence Press Co.

Other sources of help are the numerous companies that donated prizes for the five drawings staged at the festival. Prizes range from a free hamburger to a weekend vacation.

Although the event attracts large crowds, Mach could not begin to guess how many people attend the annual event. There is no entrance cost or tickets to use for counting.

The kickoff activity for the festival is the parade, planned at 6 p.m. May 19. Participants line up at the Romulus City Hall, on Wayne Road, south of Goddard, and march through the downtown area. Members of the Romulus Rotary Club will assist with the parade this year, organizing participants before the march. Participants this year will include a band from Romulus Senior High School, local Shriners in specially designed cars, the fire and police departments and the Girl Scouts.

To find the festival grounds, take I-94 to the Wayne Road exit (located between Telegraph and I-275). Follow Wayne Road south to Goddard Road. Drive west (right turn) on Goddard through downtown Romulus. Turn left on Olive Street (just after the railroad tracks). Bibbins is the first street.

Parking is located behind the old South Junior High School, on Olive Street.

'Follies' Scores of residents to perform

By JOAN MARY DYER
Belleville City Editor

There may not be a "cast of thousands," but there are scores of area residents singing and dancing in the Plymouth Community Arts Council-sponsored musical review.

The Spice of Life will be staged at 8 p.m. May 11, 12 and 13 at the Plymouth-Salem auditorium, 4618 Joy Road at Canton Center Road in Canton Township. The Thursday performance - a dress rehearsal - is open to area senior citizens for $3.

"Our show is professionally directed," said Karen Lambert. "We have just a few weeks to pull together the songs, dance numbers and skits. It's been hectic, but I'm sure everything will fall into place before our opening."

Lambert explained that the show is a Broadway-style review with lots of glitz and glitter. Rehearsals have been going at a fast pace to prepare the local participants for their performances this weekend, she said.

"In addition to handling publicity, I've been filling in 'holes' here and there, and rehearsing two mornings and three evenings a week. This week we've been rehearsing every night," Lambert said.

Lambert said the director arrived with a long list of props and other needs for the reviews - most of which have been filled.

"He wanted a pair of buff-colored, well-behaved Afghans, but we weren't able to find them," Lambert said. "We were able to locate dogs that filled the color requirement, but not the stipulation about being well behaved. We had better luck finding an Elvis impersonator and a pair of waltzers that the director wanted for the skits."

Tickets for the weekend performances are $8 for adults, $5 for students and senior citizens and $6 for balcony seats. All proceeds will go to the arts council for local scholarships and art education programs.

Advance tickets are available at Beitner Jewelry, Plymouth, the arts council office, 332 South Main Street, Plymouth, and at the door.

Dancing, sliding are slated at Metroparks

Area residents will be "slip, sliding away" this summer on a 17-foot tall water slide to be added to the Lower Huron Metropark, near Belleville.

Construction of the slide is expected to begin this week and be completed May 27.

The slide will be 120 feet long, according to park authorities. At the end of the ride, swimmers will land in the 3-foot section of the park pool. The swimming section of the pool is 5-feet deep. The diving tank is 12 feet.

A $1.50 fee includes use of the pool use and slide. Water slide hours will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Sunday and holidays; noon to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Swimming season at the park begins May 27. For more information, call 697-9181.

The park is located at 17845 Savage Road, in Belleville. Entrances are located on Hannan, Bemis and Waltz roads.

AT NEARBY WILLOW Metropark, in New Boston, parkgoers may enjoy a summer season of dancing and entertainment at the outdoor dance center, in the park.

Robert White and the Candy Mountain Express will kick off the summer dance series, which will be staged each

Saturday evening.

The Robert White event is scheduled from 6:30 to 11 p.m. June 3. Most other programs will begin at 8 p.m. and end at 11:30.

The series continues until Aug. 19.

Of particular interest will be a performance by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. For that week only, the dance performance will be staged on a Friday - July 28.

Also scheduled is a special fireworks display at Willow Metropark. The event will be staged at 9:45 p.m. July 4. Entertainment will be provided from 6:30 p.m. until midnight.

In addition to the Saturday dance events, square dancing will be staged - with caller Ken Crowley - each Friday evening from June 2 through Aug. 11. Dance times are from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m.

Willow Metropark is located on South Huron Road, at the I-275 expressway. Exit number is 11. Signs lead to the park.

All parks programs are free of charge, aside from the required vehicle entry-permits for all Metroparks. Entry permits are available at a cost of $10 for an annual pass, $5 for senior citizens or $2 per day.

Showtime: Belleville must prove it is worthy of the title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

This is the week that Coach John Bertz and the Tigers of Belleville must prove that they want the Wolverine 'A' Conference baseball championship.

The Tigers are locked in a do-or-die game with Trenton, the undefeated league leader.

After knocking off Wayne Memorial 6-1 and Lincoln Park 11-6 last week, the Tigers tightened their grip on second place and are now faced with a "must-win" situation with league-leading Trenton. Trenton defeated Belleville in the first round of play, and the two teams were scheduled to meet Tuesday night, weather permitting, at Belleville.

Today, the Tigers will travel to Monroe, another title contest. The two league rivals will play a doubleheader.

If the Tigers should lose to Trenton, they would fall two games off the pacesetter's pace.

"And, making up those two losses in the stretch is going to be difficult for us to do," said Bertz, whose club will take an enviable 6-1 league and 12-4 overall record into the week. "Obviously, we will be in pretty good shape if we can come out of the Trenton game with a victory. However, Monroe will not be a pushover.

"This definitely is a crucial week for us. We have the top team in the league and we play two with Monroe. At the end of the week we probably will know just where we are in this title race.

— John Bertz
Belleville coach

"A victory against Trenton and a loss to Monroe would place us right back where we started from." The Tiger coach noted. Belleville returned to Ann Arbor to complete their tournament obligations for the Rawlins Invitational. After splitting in the first round a week ago— they beat Ypsilanti but lost to Howell — the Tigers also managed to salvage one of two games on Saturday.

Phil Feist, who lasted three innings, dropped an 8-1 decision to South Lyon in the opening round as the winners struck for two runs in the first inning, then exploded for five in the third to seal the victory.

The Tigers came back behind Kelly O'Neal's eight-hit pitching performance to edge Ann Arbor Pioneer 7-5 in the nightcap. O'Neal struck out seven and walked none in carding his third victory of the current campaign.

Loser Sean Kenney was tagged for seven hits. He gave up a double and homer to Jeremy Ison, who scored three times. Jerry Bitner also checked in with a two-run homer.

In league competition, Belleville blasted Dearborn Fordson 13-4 as Scott Janack tossed a four-hitter, fanned six and walked two for the win.

Bitner again wielded a hot bat as he had a perfect four-for-four at the plate, including a double. Vince Sacco and Bill Byrd each had two hits for three appearances.

Wayne, a perennial conference power, lost to the Tigers 6-1 as Ison humbled Coach Jim Chronowski's Zebras. Ison notched three strikeouts, walked one and scattered nine Wayne hits.

Bill Wicker, who went the distance for the losers, got into trouble in the fourth inning when the Tigers erupted for five runs to break a 1-1 tie. In that decisive inning, Feist and Mike Gentz tagged Wicker for singles, then Joey Yuhasz also latched on to a single to load the bases.

That brought Chad Osborne to the plate who grounded out, forcing in the tie-breaking run. O'Neal then walked, loading

Robichaud runners bury arch-rival Inkster, 81-37

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Even with Robichaud's ace sophomore resting for the meet, Inkster was no match for their natural rivals.

Robichaud swept 11 of the 15 contested events en route to a lopsided 81-37 track & field victory over the Vikings of Inkster on an afternoon more suited for football than track.

With temperatures in the low forties, the Bulldogs warmed up for their pending duel with Oak Park, a team that will provide Coach Jeff Flounory's runners a good test, with the easy win over the Vikings.

"They (Oak Park) have some excellent hurdlers and also have produced some outstanding sprinters in the past," Flounory said. "It should be a good test for our kids." The two teams will meet today in Oak Park.

Robichaud and Inkster will also join about 20 other area high schools to compete for the Class B regional championships at Dearborn High. The meet is also a qualifying test for the state finals.

In the meantime, Flounory rested Wheatley last week, who has been the top sprinter, high jumper and long jumper in this area this season. He is expected to see action against the Red Skins of Oak Park.

The Bulldogs dominated the field and relay events. Rodney James won the shot put with a toss of 50 feet, 6 1/2 inches, and Eric Thomas picked up a first in the high jump competition with a 5 feet, 8 inch effort. James Gee won the high hurdles with a 15.1 performance and, with Wheatley sidelined, Robichaud's Omar Julius made sure the 100-meter dash was put in the

Robichaud coach

Bulldog win column. He crossed the finish line in 11.1.

Flounory used Mike Hart, Rodney Smith, Fred Matthews and Thomas for the 800-meter relay, and the foursome responded in the winning time of 1:36.8. In the 400-relay, the Bulldogs were winners with Thomas, Hart, Matthews and Gee who posted a 45.3. Matthews teamed with Thomas, Carl Brown and Smith to win the mile relay in 3:42.

Robichaud also produced the winner in the mile event in Rob Stewart who toured the distance in 5:15, while Matthews won the 200-meters in 23.5.

Inkster came up with a winner in the 400-meters in Willie Jones who crossed the finish line in 52.2.

The victory improved Robichaud's Suburban Athletic Conference record to 4-1 on the season; Inkster is still looking for its first SAC win. However, River Rouge, the undefeated and defending SAC champ, remains the team to beat in the conference.

Tigers remain perfect

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

When Price is right, and she has been all season, the Tigers of Belleville, appear unbeatable.

Price, Brandi Price, that is, was on target last week as she subdued Lincoln Park 4-0 and Fordson, 16-1, as Belleville stretched their winning streak to seven in the Wolverine 'A' Conference girls' softball league.

But the Tigers have a tough week ahead. They placed their 7-0 conference record on the block Tuesday at Trenton, a team that also has title aspirations, and today they will travel to Monroe to take on the always dangerous Trojans.

"This is the week that is going to tell us a lot about this team," said Belleville Coach Peggy Curtis, whose club has piled up an outstanding 16-2 record on the season. "If we can get past our next two opponents, we'll be in great shape."

Although she gave up seven hits to Lincoln Park, Price was in control all the way as she notched three strikeouts and walked none.

Belleville broke a scoreless deadlock with a run in the top of the fourth, then

Home, sweet, home

Belleville has stayed in the hunt for the Wolverine 'A' Conference baseball championship thanks to a 6-1 record. But Coach John Bertz' Tigers have three key games this week, and they must win them all if they want to remain in the chase. On Tuesday, the Tigers challenged league-leading Trenton for league supremacy and the outcome of the game will be meaningless for the local ball club if they lose to Monroe today. Monroe and Belleville are scheduled to play a doubleheader. ANP photo by Chris Pandel/staff photographer

Huron champs post 5th win

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

New Boston Huron, the defending conference track & field champ, extended its winning streak to five meets Thursday at the expense of Monroe Jefferson.

With Jen Gracia picking up victories in the low and high hurdles, the Chiefs coasted to a 101-27 victory over their conference opponents.

"This meet gave us an opportunity to switch some runners around," said Huron Coach Jeff Okler, whose Chiefs will run Riverview today. "Riverview will be a better test for us."

Gracia covered the high hurdles in 17.2, while she was clocked in 52.6 in winning the lows. Teammates Marcy Hall and Renee Syer placed first in the shot put and discus, respectively, while Janet Hughes' leap of 16 feet, 5 - personal best - in the long jump also gave the Chiefs a victory. Ledonne Glasgow won the high jump event.

The Chiefs came up winners in all four relays: in the 2-mile, Tracy Nagy, Glasgow, Lindsay Wendel and Carrie Madej were clocked in 11:08; in the 880, the winning combo was Brandy Mink, Patti Prentice, Gracia and Leann Ziegler, (1:58); in the 440, the Chiefs went with Melissa Gentile, Rachel Charrier, Christy Cox and Russow (59.76), while in the mile relay, Huron's lineup included Jenny Takalo, Russow, Gentile and Charrier (4:59).

Glasgow also crossed the finish line first in the half-mile (2:40). The Chiefs claimed both the 100 and 220-yard dashes with Prentice (12.6) and Nagy (28.9). They were set to meet Airport Tuesday afternoon, a team that shouldn't have posed a problem for the defending champs.

Romulus snaps streak

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus took its frustration out on Ann Arbor Huron in the second game of a doubleheader and snapped a six-game conference losing streak, 6-2, last week.

It was the first South Central Conference baseball victory for Coach Dennis Stoh and his Eagles, who have had their problems finding their way into the winning column this year.

The Eagles dropped the opener 11-8 in 10 innings.

"We didn't come up with the key hits last week," Stoh explained. "We had opportunities and didn't capitalize on them."

Rick Evans picked up his first victory of the SCC campaign as he tossed a seven-hitter, struck out two and didn't walk a batter. Loser Carl Fischer lasted one inning as the Eagles tagged him for four runs. The AA Huron hurler gave up two hits each to Eddie Tank, Steve Honeycutt, Tom Patterson and Chris Labiak.

In the opening game, Tank was the victim. The Romulus sophomore worked 10 innings only to find a 11-8 heartbreaking defeat at the end. He fanned eight and walked four but the River Rats tagged him for 13 hits.

Tank survived a 5-run first inning as the Eagles came back and gave their young hurler one run in the first, two in the second, and put single runs on the board in the third, fifth and bottom of the seventh. Ann Arbor put the Eagles away with three runs in the top of the 10th.

Earlier in the week, league-leading Ypsilanti scored in every inning except the fourth to claim a one-sided, 15-1 victory over Tomulus. Eddie King was charged with the loss, while Ken McMasters was the winner.

McMasters was denied a shutout when he served up a home run ball to Ken Blevins in the fourth inning.

Over the weekend, Romulus participated in the annual Dearborn Heights Annapolis Invitational and found itself in the finals after its first-round opponent, Redford Union, was a "no show."

The Eagles took on the host, Annapolis, who beat Robichaud, in the opening game. Romulus wasted an outstanding hitting performance by Eddie King who singled, doubled and ho-the bases again. Janack came through with a two-run single. When the outfielder allowed Bitner's base hit to slip through his legs, that helped the Tigers to put their last two runs on the scoreboard.

Lincoln Park tilted the scoreboard for three runs in the first inning off of Coleman, but the Tigers came right back and scored four in their first to go ahead and then went on to win a 11-6 victory over the Railsplitters.
Coleman hung on for the victory after giving up eight hits, striking out eight but issuing seven walks.
Lincoln Park tied the game at 4-all in the third, however, the Tigers broke loose for one run in the bottom of the fourth to make it a 5-4 game, then added four insurance runs in the fifth before the two teams exchanged two-runs in the sixth.
O'Neal led the hitting assault with three hits, including a single, double, and triple; Coleman had a pair of safeties, including a double and three RBIs while Sacco had a solo homer and a single for his day's work.

Romulus high looking for cage coaches

If you believe you have the qualifications to coach a varsity basketball team that has a winning tradition, school officials at Romulus High want to talk to you.
Romulus is seeking a head basketball coach for its varsity program that has produced such outstanding players as Johnny Long, presently with the Detroit Pistons; Grant Long, with the Miami Heat of the National Basketball Association, and Terry Mills, who helped Michigan capture the national championship.
The position was left vacant after the 1988-89 basketball season when Coach Dan Henry resigned.
Applicants are urged to contact Fred Coleman, Romulus High athletic director, for further information. He can be reached at the high school by telephoning 941-2170 during school hours.

'World team'
Belleville boasts 3 from Europe on tennis team

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer
They may not be the best players in the world. Or the best in the Wolverine 'A' Conference tennis circuit. But, Coach Dave McCartney is very pleased with the players he has on his 1989 squad who hail from Europe.
That's right - four of the members of the 1989 Belleville High tennis team are foreign exchange students who have become an integral part of the Tiger lineup. They have helped turn the Belleville tennis program, which is only in its second year, around.
"They are excellent players and very coachable," said

McCartney, whose Tigers have a 6-5 overall and a 2-3 won-lost conference record. "It's just been a pleasure coaching these kids."
McCartney is alluding to Jesper Jorck, who hails from Denmark; Nicolas Braguier, from France, Raul Desaja, from Spain, and Andy Hansen, also from Denmark.
With French, Spanish, Danish-speaking athletes on the court, one would think that McCartney needs a translator on the field with him to get his points across.
"That really isn't necessary," the second-year Belleville coach said. "The kids have a workable knowledge of English, however, sometimes I must confess that I don't really understand some of the things they want to tell me."

Despite the small language barrier, the exchange students don't have any difficulty translating their athletic skills into action. Jorck, who is the Tigers' number one singles, has played 11 matches this season and has looked good. His biggest victories have come against Ypsilanti's number 1 entry. He has also beaten the top player from Allen Park.
Braguier has a 7-4 won-lost record as the Tigers' number 2 entry while Desaja, who has lettered in swimming, has an even .500 (3-3) in the number 4 singles.
The coach's son, Chad, holds down the number 3 singles berth.

Not to overlook the English-speaking players on the Tiger squad, Belleville also goes with Richard Labo and Bill Scott in the number two doubles (they're 6-2 on the year); and Tom Moore and Chris Zweng, who are 2-0 in the third doubles.
Belleville has managed to defeat Wyandotte, 4-3, and Lincoln Park 5-2, while losing to Trenton and Southgate by identical 5-2 scores and to Fordson, 7-0.
The Tigers will resume their quest for Wolverine 'A' Conference respectability today when Monroe invades the Tiger courts.

Wayne outruns Tigers

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer
Belleville wasted an outstanding individual performance from senior Virgil Chandler, who accounted for two individual events and participated on the winning 880-yard relay.
However, Chandler's heroics weren't enough as Wayne Memorial turned back the Tigers 97-31 Thursday in a Wolverine 'A' Conference dual track meet.
The loss dropped Coach Dave Medley's runners two victories off the pace set by Wayne, the defending champ.
Belleville is 2-2 in the league

after beating Southgate Anderson, 82-41, earlier last week.
Chandler, the defending league champ in both the 100 and 220 dash events, remained the sprinter to catch in the conference. He emerged with victories in his specialties against Wayne, beating his opponents to the finish in the 100 (10.3) and the 220 (22.6).
Chandler also anchored the Tigers' winning 880-yard relay team, made up of Andre Brantley, Andre Edwards and Mike Gentry, who were clocked in 1:32.4.
Belleville also won the discus event thanks to Brian Gulliver, who had a 142 feet, 11 inch toss.
"We knew Wayne was an excellent team," said Medley, who sends his runners up against Roosevelt today in Wyandotte. "They are going to be tough to beat in the league this year."
Belleville also was scheduled to meet Dearborn Fordson on Tuesday, weather permitting.

Chiefs mature fast

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer
They may not be winning any games, but the New Boston Huron ball club is maturing fast.
That's what first-year head coach Bill Spiecker says 13 games into the 1989 season.
"We knew this was going to be a rebuilding year for us," said Spiecker, who inherited a team that failed to win a game a year ago. "And we also realize that it's going to take some time building a winning tradition."
"I may be disappointed that we are not winning more games, but I am not disappointed in these kids. They have shown character and are maturing fast."

The Chiefs began the week with a 2-11 overall and a 0-9 conference record after losing to Flat Rock 17-1 and being edged 3-2 by Monroe Catholic Central. David Delano was charged with the loss against Flat Rock; Mike Debozy was the loser in the thriller against CC.
The Chiefs jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning thanks to a single by Matt Hamilton and Debozy's first hit of the game. Thom then balked, advancing the runners to second and third, bringing Joe McLeod to the plate.
McLeod then laced a Thom fastball for a two-run double.
However, that lead didn't stand up for long. Monroe CC came back for a single run in the bottom of the third, then scored what proved to be the deciding two runs in the fifth.

Inkster Express is best

Who had the best Class A basketball team in the Michigan Recreation & Parks League this year?
The answer is: Inkster.
Inkster's "Guess Express" surfaced from the 32-team state tournament with top honors and the state's first-place trophy.
Curtis Tillman led the local cagers and earned the tournament's Most Valuable Player award after scoring 169 points for a 42.2 points per game average for the four games.
Inkster defeated Mt. Pleasant, Waterford, and Saginaw in the single-elimination tournament.

Romulus softballers split at Royal Oak

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Coach Bill Cuhran and the Eagles of Romulus are recovering from a seven-game week that included an appearance at the prestigious Royal Oak Invitational Softball Tournament.

The Eagles got a look at some of the finest girls' softball teams in the state this year at the tournament and came away impressed. They also added a pair of victories to their record.

Romulus turned back Ann Arbor Huron 10-5 in the first round before they lost a 7-5 decision to Ann Arbor Pioneer. The Eagles then met Birmingham Grove in their third game and came away with an 8-1 victory. However, Livonia Ladywood beat the local softballers, 7-1, in their final appearance.

"It was an excellent tournament," said Cuhran whose team has an overall 9-10 record and a 2-3 South Central Conference mark. "The field was made up of some of the best teams in the state, and I believe this gave us a lot of positive experience. We know what we have to accomplish to move into the top ranks."

Earlier last week, behind Jennifer Daniel's stellar pitching, the Eagles stopped Wayne Memorial 10-1 as Daniel turned in a no-hitter. Her two-hit pitching performance lifted the Eagles to a 10-4 victory over Ypsilanti. However, Romulus learned that it was no match for SCC pacesetter Adrian, who thrashed the Eagles 19-1.

Against Wayne, Daniel missed a coveted no-hitter when Beth Gorshek laced a two-out single in the fourth inning. Romulus received an outstanding effort from Becky Szente, who went two-for-two and drove in four runs.

Michelle Scarrow drilled a three-run homer in the fourth inning to break open a close game against the Braves of Ypsi for Romulus's second SCC win of the season.

In tournament play, Daniel struck out four, walked four and pitched a three-hitter as the Eagles subdued AA Huron 10-5. Angie Slawski chipped in three hits in four trips to the plate for the winners.

An error paved the way for three unearned Pioneer runs in Romulus' 7-5 setback against the Ann Arbor club. Daniel was charged with the loss. She was back on target against Groves who managed to collect only two hits off of the Eagle hurler.

Kim Picciano led the hitting assault against the Birmingham team. She latched on to two hits in three attempts and also drove in three runs.

In their final appearance in the tournament, Romulus discovered why Ladywood is considered one of the best teams in the state. The Livonia team erupted for five runs in the fifth inning en route to a 7-1 victory over Romulus and Daniel.

Daniel, however, has pitched 25 consecutive innings and needed rest. She was relieved by Renee Bitner who finished up.

The Eagles continue their chase for SCC respectability today when they travel to Ann Arbor Huron for their sixth conference game of the current campaign.

Belleville came up with a couple of big wins last week, turning back Wayne Memorial, 6-1, behind Jeremy Ison's nine-hitter. They also knocked off Fordson, 13-4, to tighten their grip on second place. They trail Trenton, however, in the Wolverine 'A' Conference standings. The two leaders were to meet Tuesday, weather permitting, to determine league supremacy. erupted for three insurance runs in the next inning thanks to a walk to Kathy Murphy, who stole second and moved to third when the LP catcher dropped a third strike on Kelly Rochon, who beat the throw to first. Rochon then proceeded to steal second and, with runners on second and third, Christy Garrett came through with a two-run single. She eventually scored on a wild pitch.

Garrett hammered two hits, including a two-run homer, to lead the 16-1 rout of the Tractors of Fordson. Linda Pasek and Lisa Bishop also homered for the winners.

However, after the Fordson game, the Tigers traveled to Taylor Center in the evening to take on the Rams and Wendy Jamula, one of the top prep pitchers on the scene this season.

Jamula fired a two-hitter at the Tigers, fanned five and walked none in shutting out Belleville 6-0. Tanya Kjellin was charged with the loss.

Vikings win big in tennis

Although the team is loaded with underclassmen and inexperienced players, the Vikings of Inkster had enough power to blast Highland Park 5-2 for their first Suburban Athletic Conference tennis victory of the season.

"We have a lot of students participating in our program this season," noted first-year Inkster Coach Ocie Carswell. "However, the majority of them are underclassmen. We are looking for a good year this year."

How good, Carswell won't say, but the Vikings aren't expected to give SAC title favorite, Robichaud, any trouble. Robichaud remains undefeated in the SAC.

But the Parkers learned the hard way that the Vikings can be tough. Although Inkster lost points in the number one singles where Eric Sanders fell 6-0 and 6-3 to Darren Taylor, and Tracy Wilson dropped a three-set decision to his number two opponent, Emuel Casey, 6-4, 2-6, and 7-5, the Vikings rallied to win the next five points.

Robert Brewer was in control in the number three singles as he defeated Andre Gardenhire, 6-0, 6-0, and Antoine Ruffin surfaced with a 6-0 and 6-1 win over Alimun Margaribu.

Inkster dominated the doubles competition as Tonya Hadden and Timothy Carswell won on default. The Vikings' number two doubles' team of Tisha Hicks and David Lee, as well as the number three duo of Gable Searcy and David Lyons, also found that they had no opponents, so they were awarded victories via defaults.

Eagles

mered in losing to Annapolis 7-5 in the finals.

Tank again was the loser. The sophomore pitcher gave up 11 hits, fanned three and walked two, while his pitching opponent, Todd Cornett, was awarded the victory.

The Eagles grabbed a 2-0 lead in the top of the first that was erased when the Cougars came back for three runs in their turns at-bat. Romulus rallied in the fourth to again take the lead 4-3 but again they faltered as Annapolis came back for three runs to salt away the title.

Romulus however did leave their mark on Cornett and the champs. They blasted back-to-back homers in the third, with King and Sean Shelby connecting off of Cornett.

Cornett also gave up two singles to Labiak.

Group finds answer for skateboarders

By TERRY JACOBY
ANP Staff Writer

One group of local residents has found a way to provide a way for young skateboard enthusiasts to enjoy their sport - without risking municipal liability.

The Wayne Urban Skateboard Association is the organization formed to study the problem of a lack of skateboard facilities in the city of Wayne - or in the surrounding communities.

Officials from the newly formed group signed an agreement April 25 to rent the Attwood pool building - near the Wayne Community Center, in Wayne - from the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department at a rate of $10 per month. They hope to have the building cleaned and ready for use soon.

"The lease (began) May 1, but we still have a number of things to work out," said Barbara Czajkowski, founder of the skateboard club.

Czajkowski has apparently cleared the biggest hurdle in the plan - the problem of liability. She has decided to organize an Explorer's post and a Boys' Scout troop which specializes in skateboards. The group will be a part of the Boy Scouts of America and will be insured by a Boy Scouts policy.

"I found out that there are 1,500 skateboard Explorer members across the nation and that they were covered and there were no liability problems," Czajkowski said.

"I noticed, when we started the group, that a good deal of the kids coming to the meetings used to be in my Boy Scout troop. So, I still have to go downtown and get a charter with the Boy Scouts," she continued. "Each boy filled out an application and paid money. We will now register for a charter organization."

Local skateboard enthusiasts will be required to pay dues for use of the facility and to join the Explorers or the Boy Scouts.

The Explorers is a branch of scouting which allows youths to specialize and concentrate in a specific topic, such as a career choice or hobby.

CITY OF BELLEVILLE Ordinance #89-259

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND NO. 88-245, WHICH APPROVED A DEVELOPMENT AND TAX INCREMENT FINANCING PLAN FOR THE BELLEVILLE DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT. THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE ORDAINS Article I. The following sections of the City of Belleville's Downtown Development Authority's Tax Increment Financing and Development Plan duly adopted under Ordinance #88-245 are to be amended as follows:

DEVELOPMENT PLAN Item 7: A STATEMENT OF THE CONSTRUCTION OR STAGES OF CONSTRUCTION PLANNED AND THE ESTIMATED TIME OF COMPLETION.

The DDA plans to undertake the Streetscape Improvements outlined within this plan by the year 1993. Redevelopment and market enhancement opportunities will be undertaken and completed as the become available. Chart I - Public Improvement Project for the Development Area.

1. Main Street Streetscape

Estimated Cost $91,000 (Remaining Sections unchanged)

Item 11. An estimate of the cost of the development. Proposed method of financing and ability of the Authority to arrange the financing.

The estimated cost of the public improvement program as outlined in Chart I is $2,711,000. This program is to be paid by the Tax Increment Revenues, a special assessment district and/or community Development Block Grant Funds. The DDA, under PA 197 of 1975 as amended, has the ability to borrow funds by using revenue bonds as authorized under Section 13 or General Obligation or Tax Increment Financing Bonds as outlined in Section 16 of PA 197 as amended. The DDA would utilize the method of financing that is deemed most appropriate and beneficial at the point that the borrowing of funds is necessary to complete the items outlined in this plan. It is anticipated that the DDA will utilize these revenue bonds, TIF bonds or General Obligation Bonds as outlined in PA 197 of 1975 as amended to undertake the Streetscape project and/or market enhancement program and/or the redevelopment. Opportunities outlined in the TIF and Development Plan: The DDA would use its tax increment financing revenue and/or proceeds from a special assessment district to provide income for any bonds issued or sold. Borrowing of funds by the DDA is subject to City Council approval. However, until it is deemed necessary to borrow funds, the DDA will proceed with a "pay as you go" approach.

Under PA 197 of 1975, the DDA has the authority to carry out a public improvement program utilizing tax increment financing, may receive donations for the performance of its functions, and may also finance its activities from money provided from other sources approved by the City Council.

Tax increment revenues in excess of those needed under this plan its amendments (as provided under PA 197 of 1975) shall revert proportionately to the taxing jurisdictions.

TAX INCREMENT FINANCING PLAN Item 2. Maximum amount of bonded indebtedness to be incurred. The maximum amount of bonded indebtedness shall be $2,291,000.

Item 3. Plan for the expenditures of captured assessed value by the DDA.

Public Act 197 requires that the DDA submit to City Council an annual budget for approval. It is virtually impossible to estimate the amount of funds necessary for each activity; however, the annual approved budget will be required to reflect expenditures consistent with projects outlined in this section and the overall plan.

C. Prioritization of expenditures
Tax increment revenues received will be spent to complete the public improvement program according to the priorities presented in this plan. If the tax increment revenues exceed the projections in this plan, they will be used to complete the Main Street Streetscape and Downtown Entrance Treatments.

Legal fees, planning and administration costs have been advanced by the City for preparation of this plan. These costs incurred may be repaid by the DDA as funds become available. Ongoing administrative and operating costs of the Authority, as approved in its annual budget, may also be paid out of tax increment revenues.

Tax increment revenues in excess of those needed under this plan its amendments (as provided under PA 197 of 1975) shall revert proportionately to the taxing jurisdictions.

Article II. This Ordinance shall become operative and effective on May 12, 1989.

IS YOUR DOLLAR FLEETING?

Car fleets are a major expense for most entities. But now there's a way to cut costs without making sacrifices. Buy a late-model, used car fleet from Hertz Car Sales. With Hertz, you can have a high quality fleet without paying new car prices.

Hertz offers fully reconditioned used cars for fleet sales. Each car comes with standard equipment such as air conditioning and AM/FM radios as well as many other options. Hertz will even let you inspect each car's maintenance record.

And you can be assured that your entire fleet is protected by a 12 month/12,000 mile Limited Power Train Warranty.*

So when you consider that a used car fleet from Hertz has the same benefits as a new car fleet, but costs thousands less, you'll agree that Hertz is the smartest way to keep fleeing dollars under control.
